

Cover Letter

Dear Sir/Madam,

I would like to submit my application letter for the position Software Engineer as I have a great interest for that position and I strongly believe that I have relevant capacity, experiences and skills that match with the requirements outlined in the vacancy announcement.

Currently I am studying Master of Science in Information Systems at Nanyang Technological University, Singapore and my study is about to complete. I also completed the Bachelor of Engineering in Computer Engineering at University of Technology, Yatanarpon Cyber City, Myanmar.

I have the experience of working as a freelance developer since my undergraduate student life and during my study at NTU, I took various modules related to software engineering (i.e. Software Engineering, Internet Programming and Enterprise Application Development). So, I can say that I have enough knowledges about application development and software engineering for working in that role. Moreover, I have done various projects with the Java EE and Python. All of my projects have to be done in group so that I can work in cross culture and communicate with various types of members.

I do believe that I can contribute to your organization as I am very confident of my abilities to carry out the tasks and responsibilities as mentioned. I would be very much obliged if you consider me as a suitable candidate and give me a chance to arrange an interview for further discussion.

With Regards,
Ye Lynn Khant
